ABOUT THE PROJECT

Despite numerous achievements by women, gender inequality still persists in today's society, even in the artistic field.

Our project intends to give a voice to female photographers to free their artistic expression and, through pictures, give them an opportunity to transcribe the great changes that affected their lives and to share daily moments and experiences of the last years. Created by Brazilian women living in Paris and Brussels, the name "Elles Mitraillement" translates to "They Shoot", as photographs can be powerful (non-lethal) weapons in the fight for women's empowerment.

This fight is not over. Join us and bring your vision in another exhibition that is touring the world, giving visibility to the work of amateurs and professional women photographers.
