Paul Butler

Initially inspired by the work of Terry Frost, Ben Nicholson, Bridget Reilly and Mark Rothko I have found myself intrigued by the possibility of using simple shapes, colour and texture to create art.

Barbara LT

In pre-Covid times Barbara LT spent most of her days focusing on painting movement, the character, "the feel" of her favourite circus artists. Lockdown forced them to find new ways of moving - some flying only in their minds.

Jonathan MacLeod

I'm presenting my reflections on landscape before the Industrial Age and two pieces inspired by cats. I find cats such an amazing subject as they're comforting and wise.

Rafaela Demori

Rafaela Demori is a talented young artist. Her work is usually inspired by music, dance, and beautiful ballerinas.

Amravati Mitchell

Amravati is a London painter, Vedic Art teacher and Art Coach. Her paintings are surrealistic dreamlike representations of the natural world and the process of creation. 'Emerge' her largest work used the universal process of destruction, chaos and return to a new life.

Max W Flower

I mainly use acrylic on canvas as I love the texture it brings, but I've started to enjoy working with everything from pastels, oils, ink and watercolours. I believe that working in a single medium is restrictive to my artistic process where each idea manifests in its own individual style.

Ian Kent

"What is life? It is the flash of a firefly in the night. It is the breath of a buffalo in the winter time." (From the book 'Touch the Earth' compiled by T.C. Mcluhan).
